Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Thought Questions and Answers: Civics, Grammar, Physiology, Orthography, Stock Raising, American Literature, Composition and Rhetoric, Business and Writing, General Science, Agriculture, Arithmetic, Geography, History Years of teaching have brought the realization of the need of a book of questions and answers for reviews, as well as for general use throughout the entire school year. The aim of the authors has been, not only to give knowledge, but also to develop in the student, a habit of constructive and independent thinking. No book of this nature should tend either to a complete treatment of the subjects contained, or to exclusive originality. Throughout the entire book the observative student will find the two basic principles of the authors, to impart knowledge, and to create an interest for the further search for enlightenment on various other subjects which will be suggested by both questions and answers. The best education any person can obtain, is the one he gives himself. Originality in thought is a fundamental principle in such education and the authors have endeavored, through the nature of both questions and answers, to awaken in the student that basic principle, as well as a desire for further information on the many other questions that will suggest themselves in a thoughtful study of this volume. In a great many books of this nature, the questions are selected at random; but the authors have attempted throughout, to make the questions on each subject treated herein, a continuous chain. In American History, the student can easily determine the six periods which have been dealt with, viz: Exploration, Colonization, The Revolution, The New Nation, The Civil War, and Reconstruction. These periods have...
